

Current Situation

The UDN is closely monitoring the ongoing coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic. As the situation continues to change rapidly, our top priority remains the health, safety, and well-being of our community and the global community.

We are taking informed action to limit the spread of COVID-19 while ensuring the continuity of our research mission. The UDN remains operational with appropriate measures to protect the health of the community.

Impact on In-person Evaluations

Upcoming in-person evaluations may be postponed to comply with hospital and university policies. Any changes to in-person evaluations will be communicated to participants by the clinical sites.

Impact on Applications

Delays in the application review process are expected.

Applications that were mailed to the UDN Coordinating Center recently may not have been received. If you mailed an application after February 21, 2020, please contact us to confirm that your application was received.

Medical records that were mailed may not have been received. Please contact your clinical site if you recently mailed records. Participants will be notified by clinical sites if there are any changes to the medical record collection process.
